

Transportation Management

Winona Campus

OVERVIEW

Become a leader in the field of moving products, people, and priorities across town or across the nation.

Get ready for a fast moving career! At Minnesota State College Southeast in Winona, you can earn an Associate of Applied Science degree in Transportation Management in 2 years or less.

Hands-on truck driver training is just the beginning. After you earn your commercial driver's license [CDL], you will progress to coursework related to dispatch, fleet management, business, and accounting. And if you already have a CDL and driving experience, Credit for Prior Learning may be an option.

People who work in this career field can expect to have high-level responsibilities. In a typical work day, you may:

- Request, coordinate, and monitor movement of products
- Choose transportation routes with the highest return on investment
- Review work orders and arrange maintenance activities
- Set schedules to determine work operations

If you're ready to start a career in a dynamic, fast paced work environment, consider a degree in Transportation Management. Full-time and part-time tracks available in this program -- you can enroll anytime.
